

Academic End User Software License Agreement

Important:

This License Agreement ("Agreement") is a legal agreement between you, the end user (either an individual or an entity), and Stewart Computational Chemistry ("SCC"). By typing the word "Yes" below, you signify that you have read the SCC License Agreement and accept its terms. If you do not agree to the Agreement's terms, please delete all copies of this Software.

Grant of License.

SCC grants, and you hereby accept, a non-exclusive license to install and use the enclosed software product ("Software") in accordance with the terms of this Agreement. This licensed copy of the Software may only be used at a single site. You may not: (a) electronically transfer the Software from one site to another, (b) distribute copies of the Software to other sites, or (c) modify or translate the Software without the prior written consent of SCC. The Software may be placed on a file or disk server connected to a network. You may make only those copies of the Software which are necessary to install and use it as permitted by this Agreement, or are for purposes of backup and archival records; all copies shall bear SCC's copyright and proprietary notices. You may not make copies of any accompanying materials without prior, written notice from SCC.

Ownership.

The Software is and at all times shall remain the sole property of SCC or its Licensors. This ownership is protected by the copyright laws of the United States and by international treaty provisions. You may not modify, decompile, reverse engineer, or disassemble the Software.

Assignment Restrictions.

You shall not rent, lease, or otherwise sublet the Software or any part thereof.

No Warranty.

SCC offers no warranties whatsoever.

SCC's Liability.

In no event shall SCC or its agents be liable for any indirect, special, or consequential damages, such as, but not limited to, loss of anticipated profits or other economic loss in connection with or arising out of the use of the software by you or the services provided for in this Agreement, even if SCC has been advised of the possibility of such damages.

No Other Warranties.

SCC and its agents disclaims other implied warranties, including, but not limited to, implied warranties of merchantability or fitness for any purpose, and implied warranties arising by usage of trade, course of dealing, or course of performance.

Governing Law.

This Agreement shall be construed according to the Laws of the State of Colorado.
